Chair:

Hello everyone!

My apologies for not being able to make it to this area. I am at a Regional Pro Tour Qualifier tournament for magic so wish me luck! I was able to give Jake all the info for this months area but this will be his first time Chairing so go easy on him. Not much to report this month. I did want to mention that our rent was 150 per month at LCCC not the mentioned 410 at last months area. It was mixed up with what we pay for storage. Also I will be gathering some people to find a location for next years area as well. We will be voting in Rcm1 and 2 today in elections so please stick around to make sure these positions are filled.

Thanks
In loving service

Vice Chair:

Hello Family,

I hope everyone had a wonderful 3 weeks off of coming to area. Please take it easy on me today, being that it is my first time running area by myself, today.

Please stick around after the break considering we have a few positions to be voted on, today. C&E Representative, SINAC Liason, RCM 1 and RCM 2.

Lastly, I would like to bring everyone's attention to our RCM 2. Bill is celebrating 30 years clean today! Please give him a hand.

Thank you for letting me be of service,

Jake H

Recording Secretary:

Please make sure all reports are turned into me via email or handed to me within the two weeks following area which is when I complete the minutes and send them to Shannon D.

SASC Treasurer Report

To: Seattle Area Service Committee of Narcotics Anonymous

From: Tony T. (SASC Treasurer)

Date: 2016-08-28

1. As required by our SASC guidelines I and two other committee members will meet on September 25th at 11:30am to do an audit for SINAC.
2. With regards to the reporting of the Seattle International Narcotics Anonymous Convention (SINAC): I have been in touch with committee members and progress has been made in being more transparent to Seattle Area Service Committee.
3. I have set up user ID's and password for SINAC to become more up-to-date with their accounting practices and hope to discuss more suggestions to improve their reporting to SASC.

SAASC Treasurer Report
August 28, 2016

Hello Everyone,

I may not be at area depending on what time we finish up at Recovery by the River. We are all so excited and so far the planning and preparations have been smooth sailing. As of Friday, 8/26 I have deposited funds totaling 3785.00 for ticket sales. We have sold 78 Adult tickets, 11 teen tickets and sponsored 2 newcomers for a total of 91 tickets. Ray and I will work on the Event Accountability Report for this event and turn it in at the next SASC Meeting in October.

Because I may not make it to area today I will pay the 40.00 to cover our September rent at Edmonds Lutheran Church and request reimbursement at the next SASC meeting.

I am super grateful to be of service to the fellowship and am having a great time serving on the activities committee. It ain't work if I'm having fun and I am!

In loving service,

Robyn A
SAASC Treasurer

RCM:

Hello all,

There is not much to report for this month as it was a short month and not much has happened. I am fully on board with Bill's suggestion to use 10 minutes of open discussion for the Issue Discussion Topics. I think the second IDT will prove to be a very interesting topic. If the area is willing, we can be ready to start discussion at the next area.

As you know, this is the final SASC of my term. I am planning on running as RCM2 again to get a second go around in this. I absolutely love this RCM position and feel like it is a great fit for me. Being involved at this level has touched me in a way that I cannot explain. With passion through service I am willing and excited to walk through this one more time. Talking with my sponsor and with Bill, I believe we (the RCM team) are in a great position to take this "job" one step further in being the connection between the area and the region. So the main question we've been asking is how can we do our job BETTER? How can we serve the group better. One solution to this is the issue discussion topics, but there will be much more coming in the next few years. This is the part where I say, "More will be reviled!"

Thanks for letting me serve,
Steve F

RCM 2:

RCM2 Report to Sept 2016 SASC

Hi service family. Not a lot to report since 3 weeks ago.

Talked to former SASC Treasurer who asked whether Unity Day 2016 had yet "closed their books," thus freeing up the excess funds to be sent along the fund flow track. I thought that had happened, but told him I would check. And that would be now.

I looked once again at our RD team's report from the World Service Conference – it contains a lot of interesting information. I will pass around my copy so that SASC members can look at it. Also, I revisited the NA Way magazine to remind myself of the 3 Issue Discussion Topics (IDTs) for upcoming 2 years:

1. Atmosphere of Recovery in Service
2. Applying Our Principles to Technology and Social Media
3. How to use "Guiding Principles: The Spirit of Our Traditions"

Steve and I have talked about how to initiate discussions about these topics. Last consensus is that we would use 10 minutes of Open Sharing at ASC to at least get the discussion started. Maybe start with IDT 1 or IDT 2, 2 seeming the new and different topic at this time, about Social Media. IDT 3, it seems to me, would probably be more worthwhile discussing after the Traditions book gets published in the fall and members and groups have had time to look at it.

Since last ASC, I attended Crystal Clear Retreat in South King County Area and Summer Sizzlers in Tri Cities Area, as well as my home group Serenity Circle's Day of the Geoduck event where we hold our meeting once a year at Golden Gardens preceded by dinner provided by our group.

As a result of this and the help of many over the last 3 decades, including you guys here today, I managed to be standing here with 30 years clean TODAY!!!! Thank you all for your support. And by the way, I am totally willing to move into the RCM position and I hope Steve wants to run for RCM2.

SINAC Liaison:

As of August 21st Sinac financial records show a balance of 21,948.18. Seed money to be forwarded to the 2018 committee is 16,478.74. This leaves a balance of 5,469.39 which may have to be adjusted with any final small details but all said and done the event was a success and we look forward to 2018 event as Sinac begins to grow. Thanks to the committee for doing a great job. The committee has elected a new chair for the 2018 event so please welcome Mario as he comes highly qualified to represent our areas Sinac convention. The coming events first committee meeting will be announced at October area so if you would like to be of service or just check out where you can be of help please attend and help make 2018 Sinac great. The audit for 2016 will be held on September 25th please see George and Travis for details on time and location or you can ask our area treasurer Tony for more details. Thanks again for allowing me to be of service.

Fellowship Development Committee:

Hi family,

Remember GSR Orientation is at 1:30 right before area. I do apologize for not being her last month and for not having a back up plan for the new GSRs.

We meet at 12:30 here at lake city and community center right before area. I've missed the last 2 meetings do to being sick and being at recovery by the River.. And the 2 meetings before that no one showed up. So not much to report about Fellowship development at this time..

Thank you for letting be of Service, with Love and Hugs your Fellowship development chair Valentina.

Open Sharing Topics:

Freddy opens with what is up with the dysunification between SINAC and Seattle Area? George goes on to say, SINAC one approached Area and at that time area wanted to see what would happen with SINAC and They really didn't want anything to do with SINAC at that time and Area told SINAC to go speak with Region. Region also said they didn't really want to have anything to do with it either but they would Conventions and Events help out with some of the financial ins and outs such as running the cash registers and whatnots. Some people ended up speaking their ideas or stories such as our last SASC Treasurer. He said I don't know what up with SINAC, these numbers don't add up. With this people went back to their home groups and GSRs reported that the SASC Treasurer doesn't know what's up with the SINAC and their numbers don't add up..... This is where a very innocent statement which was not even factual which began the horror and science fiction that we are dealing with right now. The numbers do add up and SINAC has been a very open book with their finances and have been very accurate. The final report from SINAC will be reported in October.

So this is not a C and E event, it is a Seattle Area event, which it was very very well this year.

Bill M. goes onto say- I was involved at the beginning of this and I actually spoke to the founder and told him he needs to go to Seattle Area to get the event approved. The founder said he will do that but approved or not we are having this event. Which I feel began the dysunification. Region puts on three convention events annually and they just weren't ready to take on something new so they did not get involved with SINAC. Also, why is it that this committee has a liaison and all other committees have chairs and treasurers coming to area. Don't get me wrong Tim has done a great job, but why does SINAC not have to have their chair and Treasurer here? This is a big convention and has lots of money involved, the liaison is not the middle of this event the Chair is. There are structures and guidelines also that SINAC does not seem to follow such as seed money and what not. Why don't they write down what there seed money is going to be and what their donations will be in stone? Why is it the SINAC does not seem to have to follow the SASC guidelines? Which always leaves the question, whos money is this? If this is a Seattle Area Event where is the money and why are no SASC guidelines being followed? Bottom line is I just don't see the structure in SINAC that other committees must follow.

This year's SINAC was impressive and starting to be accountable to our Area.

Tim H. goes on to say- First of all thank you to you all. SINAC is coming out of its infant stages and the guidelines for SINAC will be presented in October. Working a convention is like running a small business. It takes time to work out the kinks and get everyone involved to work together and this year was an excellently ran event.
